LAST OF THE SEASON. THE PRESIDENT SLINGS BIS

He Gently Reminds Congress that he has previously furnished his Reasons for his action.

WASHINGTON, June 30 .- The President approved the bill making appropriations for Judicial expenses, but vetoed the bill making appropriations to pay fees of United States marshals and their general deputies.

The President says the bill contains restrictions similar to those in that heretofore veloed, and concludes his message as follows: "In order to secure its enactment the same measure is presented for my approval, coupled in the bill before me with the appropriations for the support of marshals and their deputies during the next fiscal year. The object, manifestly is to place before the Executive this alternative: Either to allow the necessary functions of the public service to be crippled or suspended for the want of appropriations required to keep them in operaration, or to approve legislation which in his official communications to Congress he has declared would be a violation of his constitutional duty. Thus, in this bill, the principle is clearly embodied that by virtue of the provision of the Constitution which requires that all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives, a bare majority of the House has a right to withhold appropriations for the support of the Government unless the Executive consents to approve any legislation which may be attached to appropriation bills. T respectfully refer to munications on this subject which I have sent to Congress during the present session for a statement of the grounds of my conclusions, and I desire here merely to repeat that, in my judgment, to establish the principle of this bill is to make radical, dangerous and unconstitutional changes in the character of our institutions.

WASHINGTON, June 30,--SENATE. -Senator Vest's free coinage resolution was considered to-day, the question being on Senator Allison's motion to refer the resolution to the Finance Committee. The resolution was adopted; yeas 23, nays 29. Senator Eaton, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported favorably on the House joint resolution to adjourn sine die, at 4 p. m. to-day. Senator Windom objected to present consideration, and the resolu-tion goes over until to-morrow. Senator Windom stated that he regretted to be obliged to object, but as it was in his power to prevent the majority from adjourning to-day without passing the appropriation bills for which Congress was convened, he thought it was his duty to give them a night to think over their resolution and come to a better one, Senator Chandler proceeded to arraign the Democratic party for its coolness in the present session The Senate bill relating to licensing of vessels not propelled wholly by sail or internal motive power of their own, was taken up and the House amendments concurred in.

At 1:40 the Senate went into executive session, and when the doors were opened the President's message calling attention to the failure of Congress to make an appropriation for marshals fees was read and referred to the Appropriations Committee. Senator Eaton then desired to take up again the resolution with regard to adjournment. which he reported earlier in the day Senator Windom, however, again ob-jected and introduced a bill making the appropriation for marshals' fees without conditional clauses. On motion of Senator Eaton, it was amended so as to be the exact copy of the bill just vetoed and finally was indefinitely postponed. After another executive session of short duration, the Senate adjourned antil to-morrow.

House,—States were called for bills for reference but only about a dozen were introduced. One hundred and fiftyseven members present, being thirteen more than a quorum. The Speaker laid before the House the veto message of the President on the marshals' bill and it was read. The House refused to pass the bill over the veto by a vote of 83 to 63. At 2:30 another message was received from the President and read calling the attention of the House to the importance of making some provision for marshals; saying that under the existing laws prohibiting the incurrent of liabilities outside of the appropriations the Executive could not command their services and that the suspension of their functions for even a short time would be inconsistent with public interest and might at any moment prove inconsistent with public safety. message was referred to the Appropriations Committee, as was also the letter from the Attorney General on the same subject, presented by Mr. Atkins (Tenn.) After disposing of some important business on the Speaker's table, the House took up and passed under a suspension of the rules, the bill originally introduced by Mr. McKenzie (Ky.), putting salts, quinine and sulphate quinnine on the free list. The vote stood 125 to 32. Adjourned.

Rom Chipman in Greensboro.

Correspondence of the News. GREENSBORO, June 28 .- On the morn ing train of 27th there arrived a man and his son in our city, bringing two young parrots (said to be Mexican), who alighted from the omnibus at house, spending the day, and in the afternoon went into the country, spending night and day with his old aged parents, after which a return was made with his father, who spent last night in town with relatives, and they took the 8 a. m., Richmond and Danville train to-day north to see relatives in Caswell, and this was no less a personage than Rom Chipman, who it will be remembered was accused and convicted in 1857 in Guilford court of the murder of Martha Pinnix, and who subsequently broke jail and made good his escape, never having been recaptured It will be remembered further that Governor Vance, for reasons to him satisfactory, did grant a pardon to said Chipman about two years ago, thereby freeing him from the penalty of the law. There were no signs of disguise about his person, being dressed in a dark blue suit, very long redd sh beard, and looks somewhat like he did in our school days together, only older. I heard he married a Mexican wife, and his son (some ten years old) is of quite dark seem d to have no fear while in town or a he depot to-day.

immediate neighborhood where the murder was committed-whether by him or by the hands of some one else not known, the grounds of his pardon being very much in favor of the guilt of another by some confessions which were published in the papers. QUILL AGAIN.

Moore's School History of North North Carolina Presbyterian.

North Carolinians have too little State pride. We have enough to be proud of, and our children ought to know it, even if their parents choose to remain ignorant. This valuable history comes at the right time to supply a great want in our schools. Mr. Moore's care and diligence have furnished a book of greatest interest and value. Were we isposed to find fault with it, we would object to its richness in material. Be ginning with the heroic Raleigh, Mr. loore traces the varied fortunes of North Carolina through proprietary, colonial and revolutionary changes to this date. He shows the character of the formative population that determined our history, pictures the achieve-ments of our gallant yeomanry, and our lofty men, and arrays a mass of facts so creditable to the State that we want our children to know them all. conviction, but without partianty prejudice, except in his emphatic dis-crimination against old bachelors, in hich he is right, in our opinion.

Brooklyn Eagle. There has been much grim humor in lying, ancient and modern, of which old Socrates, perhaps, was the test example; but for kindly fun, combined with a pathos which had in it none of the affectations of melodrama, the ne-gro Robert Jones, of North Carolina, has never had an equal.

It seems as if the moral idiosyncrasies of the negro had recently opened a new chapter in psychology, yet the most eminent anatomists tell us that the negro skull scarcely differs at all from that of the Anglo Saxon.

Small Cotton Mills Our Hove. Dalton Headlight.

The South has all the natural advantages to make herself rich and independent of the North. We have not capital sufficient to build up at once, but every town and county in this State can start some manufacturing enter-prise on a small scale, and thus help along the movement. Let us have a market and a price of our own, and not have the North to set a price on our cotton, corn, and other produce. The farmer must be independent. He must farmer must be independent. He must not bring his produce to town and put himself at the inercy of the monopolist. Our own county and every county can erect small water-power mills to spin our cotton into yarn and thus dispose of the crop to good advantage.

OUR STATESMEN

REPUBLICAN CHIBELLINES AND DEMOCRATIC GUELPHS.

Zach. Chandler Knocked the New Yorker Down-Blaine.

There is much wrangling and quarreling even among those who have been companions and friends. Here-tofore Congressmen who have differed widely in political opinions and who have held each other at arm's length on all matters of controversy, have shown that the estrangements of the head do not always check that genial intercourse of the heart which should exist between members of the same body. There were straight lines drawn and high walls built in politics, but there were no partitions in those committees rooms where Democratic Guelphs and Republican Ghibellines met to refresh while engaged in legislation. This good feeting has gone where the wood-bine twineth, as the late Jim Fisk would have classically remarked, and other. ROSCOE CONKLING'S QUARRELS are more numerous than those of any one else, as he has of late made a personal matter of any disagreement with him. Every Republican Senator who voted to confirm the New York Cus tom-House officers in opposition to Conkling's wishes has since been "cut" by him with supercilious scorn. Blaine has never been forgiven since he dared to attack him in the House, when they were both members of that body, and Burnside, who gave him the lie direct in an executive session last winter, is sneered at whenever opportunity offers. Whenever the business of the Senate is transacted in accordance with his wishes he smiles serenely, but if matters don't go as he desires he becomes as cross as a bear. On Thursday last he had wanted to speak, and his friend, Mrs. Kate Chase-Sprague, was in the gallery to hear him, which made him enraged because Beck and Voorhees occupied the floor. He not only denounced them in round terms in a conversation which was audible to all im-mediately around him, but he stigma-tized the entire body of Democratic Senators as "A DIRTY SET OF BLACKGUARDS." This was told to Lamar, who has not been on amicable terms with him since his difficulty with Georgia, and he studied the words of insult which were afterward used. It is now a matter of regret to leading Republican Senators that they did not at once call Lamar to order and have the words taken down, which is the first step toward a resolution of censure. But every one was epithets went to and fro, like a weaver's shuttle, before the other Senators had recovered from their amazement. Conkling, would not, of course, defy the laws of New York, or the public sentiment of the North, by sending or receiving a challenge; but should any one attack him he would fight bravely. He not only takes great care of his health, but he "trains himself" by stated exercise, abstinence from intoxicating drinks and richly-cooked food, and daily practice with heavy clubs and boxinggloves. Standing six feet and two inches in his stocking feet, with a stal-wart frame not burdened with any strands of muscles like wire endire he would be an ug y customer to tackle. When he kept house here he had an upper room devoted to boxing, and it was his delight to get his friends to put on the gloves, and then to punish them.

KNOCKED ZACH CHANDLER DOWN. The Michigander didn't get angry, but vowed revenge in his heart. A few weeks afterward he told Mr. Conkling that a country constituent of his de sired to be introduced to him. Conkling loves attentions, and he asked Chandler to bring the Michigan visitor to his house. Accordingly, Chandler made his appearance at Conkling's ressized gentlemen, modest in deportment, who said but little. After a while, Chandler adroitly began to talk about boxing, and the unsuspecting Conkling proposed to show the stranger "the manly art of self-defense." The trio went up-stairs, and, as neither of his visitors would put on the gloves, he mauled a bag of sand which was hung from the ceiling. Finally the young stranger put on the gloves, in a verlant way, and the Senator from New York came dancing toward him, lookcontempt as he struck from the shoulder a blow which was intended to be floorer. But the blow was parried, and mother was given in return which KNOCKED CONKLING DOWN, FLAT. Springing to his feet, he sought to re-trieve this undoubtedly accidental hit, but before he could touch his opponent, chuck! came a left-handed blow, and down went the athlete a second time. Chandler could no longer restrain him-self, but exclaimed: "There, Conkling, you see how good a man feels when he is knocked down. Let me introduce you to my friend, Mr. Price, who, as Ned Price, was the champion lightweight in the American prize ring." Conkling has never to this day seen the point of the joke or forgiven Chandler.

BLAINE IS VERY PROVOKING in his manner of debating at times, and on Friday night he actually provoked the courtly and chivalrous Bayard, who indulged in an impertment remark about the position Blaine stood in with his hands on his hips. Blaine made a stinging reply, and Bayard, who at once saw that he had transgressed the rules of courtesy, meekly apologised.

The Most Sensible.

Springfield Republican. The Burlington Hawkeye and the Ohio State Journal are condemning what they are pleased to call Garfield' surrender on the last army bill, which was probably the most sensible action taken by the Republicans this session.

What is Said About It.

Springfield Letter to Hartford (Ct.) Times. The Fourth of July orator fasco is making lots of music up here. Charles O. Chapin put his whole leg into it when he invited ex-carpet-bagger West Brookfield Chamberlain, of South Carolina to fire anew the Springfield heart on the glorious anniversary. It was, in fact, a put up job to bluff the Springfield Republican; nothing else. Mr. Chapin being a "stalwart," his patriotic pot easily boiled over at the Republican's advocacy of Lamar, Hampton or Vance as the orator for the coming celebration. The majority of our citi-zens are indignant, but it is now so late that it is doubtful whether any other man of prominence would be willing to come. Chamberlain will have a respect-ful, sweaty audience, but he can no berlain will say. He is a shrewd man, too shrewd, it strikes me, to fling the bloody shirt and abuse the South; but he may forget himself, as smart men occasionally do, and disgust people. The Republican is in high spirits over Mr. Chapin's "bull." He has gone to the other extreme.

COTTON AND COTTON SPINNING. Letter from Col. John'N. Staples on the Subject Charlotte Observer.

Your editorial remarks in the Obser ver of this morning, npo) the enormous production of cotton in the Southa goodly number of Congressmen are not now on speaking terms with each ern States since 1866, is worthy of notice in every paper in the nation. It is indeed refreshing to read now and then something in the newspapers which is calculated to stimulate industry, en-courage commercial enterprise, and courage commercial enterprise, and draw the attention of capitalists to the great resources and undeveloped wealth of the South. That the value of the cot-ton produced in the Southern States since the war is more than twice as much as the public debt of the nation, is a fact almost incredible, but one which is borne out and established by government statistics. A section of country, so recently devastated by war, its people almost crushed in fortune and in spirit, subjected to a complete revolution in its laws, its officials and its government, and its system of labor destroyed, that presents to the world such a recuperative power and energy, must sooner o later advance to that position and power in the commercial world that will make it not only great in itself, but the great est part of the nation to which it belongs. And that politician, or that party, for political preferment and official plunder, that would sectionalize and estrange it from other portions of the nation, by hostile legislation and false accusation, is not only the bitterest enemy of the South; but an obstacle and a barrier to the wealth and prosperity of the whole country.

I have great hopes that the legislation of this State hereafter will be more decidedly devoted to the particular encouragement of manufacturing. I tried, but without success, when a member of the General Assembly, to have an amendment to the constitution sub-mitted to the people for ratification, giving the Legislature power to offer cial inducements to capitalists to es tablish manufactories in our State, citing as an example the case of New Hampshire, where that State paid : bonus of fifty thousand dollars to the company which erected the first manufactory in that State. The subsequent wealth of that State proves the wisdom of the investment. We can never hope to be able to compete with the wealth and enterprise of the North, until we devote more attention, both of a legislative and personal character, to this the greatest to us of all questions-our manufacturing interests. We have the cotton; let us have factories.' And then ore will have the money and the people.

A Pleasant Home.

"Shall I not take mine ease in mine inn?" .was the interrogation uttered by Jack Falstaff; and the same question is repeated daily in nearly every place in the United States. It is always answered affirmatively, but in many cases the inns scarcely come up to expectations. To those who are fastidious on the point of cuisine the National Hotel in this city, Messrs. S. R. Street & son proprietors, ranks, with the highest in the country. The house is so cool and airy in the summer time, no mosquitoes around presenting their little bills (this busines is left for the genial Mr. Duke, the book-keeper of he establishment), a quiet neighborhood (except when the noisy legislators congregate in the big building in the park across the street), all combine to nake this a pleasant home for those who are on the wing as well as transient dwellers in the city. The House is well fitted up, and as there are sixty rooms in the National, ordinarily those who wish to stop at this fine hotel can be accommodated. What more can be

A BANK TELLER SHOOTS HIS COACHMAN.

The Result of Abusing a Span o Horses-Poor Whisky the Prime Cause of the Trouble.

Joseph A. Blair, the paying teller of the Mechanics' National Bank, at No. 33 Wall street, New York, shot John Armstrong, his coachman and gardener, at his residence in Montclair, N. J. Thursday evening. Amstrong had been drinking and was surly and abusive when questioned about his cruel treatment of a pair of horses. He used vile anguage, and Mr. Blair dismissed him on the spot and told him to leave the place at once. He refused the wages handed him; and threatened to shoot any one who tried to make him go. Mr. Blair ordered a horse to be harnessed. and said he would go to the village and get a justice to settle the question of wages which Armstrong refused to consider. He took his revolver from the house as he started to the barn to go to the village, and soon after loud and angry words were heard by Mrs. Blair and her daughter. Mr. Blair returned shortly, saying that he had shot Armstrong, but in self defense. He had in his hand the pistol which Armstrong had in his possession.

Several physicians were summoned by the family, and all the family at-tended upon him. He said he forgave Mr. Blair for shooting him. The latter delivered himself up to the justice, and gave to him the two pistols. The one belonging to Armstrong was found to contain five loaded chambers. Bail was refused Blair, and he was committed to wait the action of the Grand Jury, which meets in September. Armstrong was 32 years of age, and was a native of Ireland. In his ante mortem statement he accused Mr. Blair of shooting him without justification, and that the pistol he took was not on his (Armstrong's) person at the time, but was up stairs in the barn. He died in great agony at nine o'clock last night. Mr. Blair is spoken of in Montclair and by his emloyers as a man of quiet, steady habits, quick tempered, but correct principles and a high sense of honor. Mrs. Blair is the daughter of a wealthy citizen of

In an accident which occurred last week a young girl and lad set out in a mere shell of a boat upon water a hundred feet deep, and attempted to change places in it. The shell tipped, as a matter of course; and equally of course they were drowned. There were two young lives cut short, and two homes left desolate forever, for the lack of the appeallest portion of ordinary pre-Cotton Blooms.

A cotton bloom from the farm of Colonel T. C. Robertson, of Neuse township, was sent to the News office yesterday, the first from that locality. The Colonel used the Cotton Food Guano, sold by J. J. Thomas.

Also another bloom was handed in yesterday from the farm of Mrs. Jeff.

COMMENCEMENT CONCERT

EVENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL SESSION OF SALEM FEMALE COLLEGE.

Young Ladies out in Porce-A Fine Programme Finely Rendered.

The Closing Exercises. orrespondence of the News.

SALEM, June 2d.-Last Wednesday vening we had a refreshing rain, cooling the parched earth and atmosphere, settling the dust, gladdening the hearts of man and beast, and clearing off in due time for us to attend the concert at the Salem Female Academy, which came off Wednesday night in advance of Commencement exercises of to-day, that the young ladies might get off on the 5 'oclock train this evening without having to lay over till to-morrow evening. At 8 o'clock a large and appreciative audience had assembled in the handsomely festooned and well lighted hall, and the concert exercises began, which consisted of music, interspersed with essays by members of the senior class, serving to give variety and also to abridge the programme for Commencement. The music, both vocal and instrumental, was splendid.

We noticed quite an improvement in all the pupils since last Commencement. We were pleased to note how accurately the students of this Institution observed time and accentuation— two prominent essentials, in which most music students, and some amateurs, are deficient. This is proof of careful teaching. Where all did so well, it would, perhaps, be wrong to discriminate; yet, we must say that in our opinion, to Miss Bettie Dibrell, of Dan-ville, Va., and Misses Maggie and Maud Wester, of Kingston, Tenn., confessedly belongs the laurel wreath of eng; but to which of the three it would be difficult to decide. All were warmly applauded and several encored. The essays were well written and well read, The pronunciation of the young ladies was unusually good, compared with most occasions of this kind. We think both the musical and literary deportments were well sustained in last night's performance, and it will be long re-membered by all who appreciate good

Thursday morning at 10 o'clock Commencement Exercises began by the chorus singing "God, Thou art Great," and the reading of the Scriptures by Rev. Mr. Zorn, Principal, and prayer by Rev. Mr. Greider, of Bethania

The school under the judicious mangement of the present corpsof teachers has been a prosperous one and while it retains all its pastime merits and advantages, it has been so remodeled in course of study, grade of scholarship, and modern improvements of all kinds that it may justly be ranked among the very best female schools of the South. There are eight resident teachers, fifteen instructors with the principal and his lady, and the professor of music and his three assistants. During the past three assistants. During the past three-fourths of a century it has sent forth five thousand five hundred alumnæ. The reputation, and character, of a fashionable or finishing school are designedly avoided. The attendance this session has been good; and the prospects for the next very encouraging. We trust that it may continue to receive the liberal patronage it to justly

Interviewing cannot be carried much further than it was by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which sent twenty re-porters to board an editorial excursion train. Each reporter wore a badge in scribed: "With malice toward pone, with questions for all; a soft answer turneth away wrath," and gave to each interviewed editor a check marked, "Pumped. Keep the check in your hat to avoid further disturbance." It is scarcely necessary to add that the west-ern editor "fell into the spirit of the thing."

On Sainrday last near Brooklyn, a little hamlet simated some two miles northwest of this city, a newly-born colored infant was found near the road, having at racted the attention of some persons passing by. It was taken up and cared for, and a search was institued for the mother. Circumstances pointed to the guilty person, and when She is in arrest but is too sick to be removed from where she is now lying.

The subject that possesses the Chicago Tribune at present is "Peonage in the South," and enough has appeared in that journal to warrant the belief that this subject will be used with vigor to accomplish the object of stirring up differences between the whites and ·blacks. It is a specific charge that the Southern States mean to provide for a virtual re-enslavement of the negroes by means of a certain law known as the "Lien Law," which has been in existence for years. Why the evil workings of this law rave not been made public until the present time does not

In substance the Tribune states that one cause of the negro exodus not fully understood by the people of the North is the penal laws of the Southern States. The exodus thus far has been exclusively from Louisiana and Mississippi, in which States the laws bear hardest on the laborers. Both States have a Lien law, the purpose of which is to authorize the mortgaging of property not yet in existence. The effect of this law is to encourage dealings in "futures" by landlords and tenants alike. Speculative gambling is thus legalized and made reputable, and the raising of a crop becomes as risky a business as buying lottery tickets." It is make or break with the negroes. They are gamblers by instinct, and willing to take chances. One bad erop reduces them to bankruptcy and impoverishes the country. We fail to see that there is any difference between this class of mortgages and those given by farmers in the North. A Northern farmer purchases a certain number of acres and pays a portion of the price down, and depends upon his crops for paying the rest. Is not this as much a mortgaging of property not yet in existence as that cited by the Tribune?

But so far "the evils of this law" are only prospective, for this journal, so full of love and charity for the colored race states that perceived by the best class of planters at the South. The truth was acknowledged at the Vicksburg Convention, May 5th, when the repeal of the Lien law was recommended in one of the resolutions adopted by a unanimous vote. But there has been a counterinfluence at work, both before and since the Vicksburg Convention, the object of which has been to make the Lien laws still stricter and the penalties for failure to fulfill the obligations imposed by them more severe. Up to this time only one thing has been wanting to make the virtual re-enslayement of the negroes possible. This one thing was the power to imprison for debt. If the Lien laws were supplemented by a law to enforce the contracts under penalty of fine or imprisonment, the negroes would be liable, without any fault of their own, are not supplemented by any law providing imprisonment, where does the evil exist? Several Northern States provide for the enforcement of debt contracts by imprisonment. New York provides for the collection of militia debts decreed by courts-martial, and if such debts are not paid execution issues against the body, and we also believe that writs of ne exeat are issued in that State, while prisoners lie in Ludlow street jail for non-performance of contract.

Now the Tribune has a correspondent at Jackson, Miss., "who is everyway "trustworthy and well-informed," and this trustworthy chap reveals a design on the part of "certain people in that State" to re-enslave the "negroes." The Mississippi plan of re-enslavement, as related by that correspondent, is to force all persons confined in the county j dis, to accept service with a prisoncontractor, although

It is true, to be sure, that the pretense of an option is offered; but the diet of those who refuse to labor is made so miserably poor (consisting of only six ounces of bacon, or ten ounces of beef, and a pound of water per diem) t at there is no choice between the conractor and starvation. The statute provides for the cases of petty offenders only. Small thefts, breaches of the peace, getting money or goods in small nantities under false pretenses, disorderly conduct, and such matters, are the offenses had in view in this law. For all these excessively heavy fines are imposed, rather than definite terms of imprisonment. The purpose of this law is to yoke the negro with a debt, under the name of a fine, which, as we shall presently see, by other provisions of the law, he will never be able to pay, at least "hardly ever." And yet this same trustworthy correspondent cites a case where a negro for some "petty offense" was fined $250 and costs. The pegro prayed out a writ of habeas corpus, but the "trustworthy" correspondent forgot to learn the result. He only knows that there are many other similar cases, and that is all he does know.

Is Mississippi alone in reducing judicial expenses in this way.? We believe that Pennsylvania courts when sentencing a person to the penitentiary or imposing a fine charge the offencer with the costs of prosecution, and if they are not paid he has to work them out in the penitentiary. So much for Mississippi crueity. The whole amount of the Tribune's fuss is that the article was gotten up for campaign purposes. The "North ern heart" must be fired, and the "reestablishment of slavery" is the new war cry. If the Tribune would pay some little attention to the enforcement of the Illinois statutes and less to the laws of other States perhaps there would be fewer corpses gathered up at a pic-

HON A. W. TOUBGEE [Published by request]
In the issue of the DAILY News of July 14, 1876, and again in the issue of September 2, 1876, reference was made to Judge Tourgeey severely reflecting on his private character. For these publications he immediately instituted an action for libel in the Supe rior Court of Wake county where the same has since been pending. The tenor of these publications was that, at some time previous to his removal to this State, the Judge had been a convict in the Ohio penitentiary.

This charge had been made and reiterated more than once in the Press of the State and an authorized contradiction had not been called to the attention of the then editor of the NEWS, although it seems that in fact such denial had been made in the Goldsboro Messenger, Milton Chronicle, Raleigh Register, the New North State and

At the time the publication was made in the News the Judge was an active partisan and had in the Republican State Convention as chairman of the Committee on Platform submitted a report and platform especially obnoxious to the Democracy, and the NEWS was not slow to hold him up as an unsafe leader for our people. He was recognised as an able canvasser, and one who by his boldness gave tone to his followers. He struck hard and the NEws returned his assaults upon its party in words that were not always measured. Upon his instituting suit, we employed counsel and took the necessary steps for defense. In doing so, it be came important for us to investigate thoroughly the sources from which this rumor came in order to make good the The investigation has been thorough, and we are frank to confess that we have been unable to discover that there are any grounds whatever for the charge, and we are satisfied that there are none.

Upon ascertaining this, we have directed our counsel to withdraw our plea of justification made in the answer filed in the cause, which has been done. We do this the more cheerfully as we find the following in regard to Judge Tourgee in that sterling Democratic paper, the Cleveland (Ohio) Plaindaler, which is published within fifty miles of the places where Judge Tourgee was born and resided until his removal to this State. That journal speaking of this very charge says: "We do not hesitate to say that no such charges can truthfully be made against him when he went to North Carolina as fair a character as any young man could desire to have." The Judge is now about remove from this State to seek his fortunes elsewhere, and we desire as a matter of justice to ourselves, as well as to him, to say that its political animosity to one who in a time of intense party excitement proved so bold a leader caused the NEWS to do him an injustice, not

Still we are not disposed to renew the political controversies of the past, and with draw the personal reflections on his character as set forth in the NEWS as

It is to be regretted, not only that this rumor was repeated in the NEWS, but that it ever obtained currency, since we believe that unfounded attacks upon political adversaries are injurious in the end to those who make

THE Boston Herald legitimately glorities the clever part played by Reporter Balch in capturing Murderer Cox. But it insists that this case, and Rev. E. D. Winslow's arrest, do not sum up the services of Boston reporters in the detective line. William S. Post of the Herald originated and fairly forced upon the detectives the theory which led to the arrest and conviction of Pembers: Bingham, and A. G. Hills and Harry Smith, formerly of the Journal, discovered the human blood in Leavitt Alley's barn on Hunneman street at Boston; and many believe today that, had not the jealousy of the detectives prevented three men from testifying, Alley would have surely been convicted of the murder of Abijah Ellis. In other but less important cases, says the Herald, reportorial keenness has furthered the ends of justice, and just now two self-constituted detectives are under conviction as the reward for a felony ferreted out by John B, Wright, another Herald re-

Iowa is the most wonderful State in the republic. Practically the Democrats are smothered under tons and tons of the most bitterly provincial Radicalism that ever cursed a commonwealth. The result is that there is not a politician or officeholder in the State with anything approaching a national reputation. Take away the editors of the Buflington Hawkeye and the State would never be heard from again either by mail or telegraph. Really, the situation is distressing.

DURING several weeks "General" Conway, otherwise known as "Tencents-tor-cake Conway," has been promising to take a steamboat down the Mississippi, to carry to Kansas the negroes who are alleged to be starving on the banks. Thus far he has devoted himself to the collection of funds at the East, and if those negroes were really suffering, they are all dead by this

ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERIES of the nineteenth century, and one that takes equal rank with the invention of the telephone, the electric light and other scien-tific marvels of the age, is that of

Henry's Carbolic Salve. This Compound possesses the most re-markable Healing Properties of any known agent employed for the purpose of curing SORES, WOUNDS, CUTS, BRUISES, Inflamed and abraded surfaces, and for ALL SKIN DISEASES. Its cleaning properties remove all impurities that hinder the formation of healthy flesh, and the work of cure goes on to completion with most Wonderful Rapidity. Let no family be without a box of it in the house. Physicians extol its virtues; and the thousands who have used it unite in recommending it. Beware of Counterfeits.

"Our people like well enough to see a hearty knock-down blow given, but they have a perpetual nagging. A daily diet of snarl and sneer is not to their tisse." Would anybody believe that this comes from Mr. Whitelaw Reid, who edits the champion snarl and sneer and hate newspaper of America? Perhaps the Jay Gould end of the Tribune allow the Whitelaw Reid end to carry this purely ethical view of the ion into the editorial page - Phil-J. RHODES BROWN, LAMBERT SPENCER, GEO. W. Mr. M. Hyans, of Augusta, has a medal of the South Carolina regiment given during the Mexican war. On it is the name of Shadrack Ready. Pheowneris supposed to be dead, as the medal was given the present holder by a Federal soldier who took it probably from a dead Confederate.

An authority on horses write to the London Agricultural Gazette: "I can almost challenge the seller on the point whether the horse has carried a lady by observing the unequal wear of the foreegs. The near leg, in cantering, bearing all the concussion, is often very looped, if not archy, in comparison." The Czarowitz, the heir to the Russian crown, mixes freely with the peo-ple. said to be in no danger from them.

On yesterday a colored man, some fifty years old, passed through the city, from Winston, North Carolina, en route o Waco, Texas. With his wife and hildren he has lived with his old master since the war, in Carolina. Some time back, his old master and the entire crowd moved to Waco, Texas, the old man remaining behind to work out some debts he had contracted. Having worked off the debts, he put off afoot for Texas. He appears to be an hopest, clever old man. Thinks he will join his family and old master after, awhile, though he finds the world much larger than he expected. He says that when he gets out of money, he stops a few days and works, and with a few dollars head he takes the road again.

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a liting person about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the voins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stemach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and heneral debility follow. Merrell, 's Herating, the great vegetable discovery for torpidity, causes the Liver to throw. MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpili;, causes the Liver to throw off from one to so ounces of bile et a time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking Hepatine in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

As a General Remedial Agent in Chronic Diseases

It is confidently claimed for these waters, and the claim though a strong one is substantiated by the testimony of many of the most eminent medical men of the country, both North and South, that in the following enumerated diseases: Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, especially in Stone of Gravel, Dyspepsia, Rheumatics Gout, Rheumatism, Paralysis, Malarial Fevers in their chyonic form, Dropsical Effusion, Uremia or Uremie Poison, Chronic Cutaneous Fruptions, and in the Functional Diseases peculiar to Women, more especially in all Disorders of the Menstrual Function. They have accomplished results as remarkable as were ever accomplished by any remedial agent whatsoever, whether in materia medica or among mineral waters. They are confidently recommended by some eminent medical men as a preventive of the disturbance and dangers incident to Pregnance.

While the press elsewhere, is calling attention to the rapid growth and the increasing prosperity of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, and is praising it for the adoption of its new form of simplified incontestable policy to which reference is had in another column. Tis due this noble and dibig hearted society that we should di-rect the attention of that large class of our readers (who no longer insure their ives, because it was their misfortune to insure in one or more of those worthless "mushroom" Companies that came to the surface soon after the late war, the Equitable, as eminently worthy of the strictest confidence and most liberal In an interview with Mr. F. P. Pescuc, Sr., the popular and energetic State Manager of the Equitable, we learn that according to the Insurance Record, its annual new business has for the past eight years been greater than that of any other life insurance compa-ny in the world and which is owing to the prompt payment of its losses. A few examples we mention. In January last before the claim was due the Equitable paid $50,000 to the heirs of the late Colonel Walter Dwight, of Binghamton, N. Y., while nineteen other companies that issued policies on his life far exceeding $200,000 are yet trying to learn the cause of his death Only a few months ago a mail agent, in his last illness, told his wife he had forfeited his policy; because he failed to inform the "Equitable" of his appointment as such, and pay it half of one per-centum extra premium. After his death, the pastor of the widow informed the "Equitable" of the fact, and it sent a check for the amount of the policy less the extra premium due. A short time since Dr. A. G., of Concord, N. C., applied for a policy and gave his note for the premium to the agent, payable in ninety days. Sixty days after the date of the policy Dr. G. died and twenty-eight days after his death, his widow received a check on New York for $2,500.

and whose policies are of no value) to

In May, 1874, the "Equitable" issued a policy of $30,000 on the life of Dr. John T. Darby, of Columbia, S. C., late of New York. This distinguished physician died on the 9th of June, 1879, and on the 18th of June (9 days after death) his heirs received a check for $30,000. And with like promptness the "Equitable" has paid since its organization in 1858 $47,000,000.

We are aware that the chief reason why most of our citizens have not kept their policies renewed, or do not insure their lives is because of the unprece-dented scarcity of money. While this is so, there are very many who positively decline for want of confidence in the sincerity of the Company, or its ability to meet its promises, and others, not a few; who, when they read their policies, don't know whether they are nsured or not. They find the amount of Insurance written in large letters, but so many conditions and restrictions n type so small as to be scarcely legible, and they conclude it is an enigma wealthy corporations and poor claimants must solve after the assured is dead, whether the latter have any legal claims on the policy or not. This class of objectors will be pleased with the clear and large type for which the Equitable policies are distinguished. It insures only sound and healthy persons of good habits, hence its few restrictions and conditions. It takes no advantage of mistakes made by the assured in applications, and after three years, if the assured die from unnatuchange of habits, the amount of policy is promptly paid. If the assured becomes too poor to keep up his policy he will find the amount of paid up insurance he is entitled to or the cash value at the end of the tontine period on his policy, and he has thirty days' grace by paying interest, in which pay his premium, with all their advantages and the payments of policies guaranteed by assets at present gold value worth $36,000,000. wonder that so many are applying to the Equitable's Agents for policies who have refused to insure in other Companies.

Important Announcement in Life Insurance.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States makes the folowing announcement to the public: The dissatisfaction which prevails hroughout the community with regard to the onerous conditions contained in life assurance contracts and the judicial decisions based thereon, together with the public indorsement of the liberal usages of this Society, as shown by its largely increased business, has led the management seriously to consider whether the contract could not be simplified and certain conditions erased therefrom which have been the subject of much criticism and misconception. experience of some of the best companies in Great Britain, who have shown a greater liberality than has been customary in this country, this Society feels justified in adopting a form of contract in which the following important concessions are made to policy holders throughout the United States: 1. Policies will be made incontestable after three years from their date. 2. Each ordinary policy will provide for a definite surrender-value in paidup assurance, in case the policy is forfeited atter three years from its date. 3. Each Tontine policy will contain a definite surrender-value in cash in case of withdrawalat the end of the Tontine

4. The entire contract will be concisely and clearly expressed, containing only such provisions as are necessary to protect the policy-holders.
5. The above conclusions will hereafter inure to the benefit of all policies already issued, and in force after three years from their dates respectively. P. F. Pescud, Sr., State Manager for North Carolina at Raleigh, N. C.

BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879 -The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, Esq., LYNCHBURG, VA .- Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully, WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.—WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually eured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me,
The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach. vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for yarious other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WADDILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News. For sale by Wm. Simpson, Pescud, Lee & Co., and F. H. Heartt, Raleigh, N. C., and Druggists generally. Old Libraries. Many people have old Libraries no longer used by them.

They will hardly bring anything when sold at auction, though they often contain valuable books.

Send them to Rev. L. Branson, bookseller at Raleigh, N. C. He will catalogue, advertise and turn them into the send the send of the s money at reasonable prices.

Fly Fans, Fly Traps,

Ice cream freezers, refrigerators, lemonade baskets, flour baskets, croquet sets and all other seasonable goods can be found at the well known hardware house of J. C. Brewster. The most complete stock of house furnishing goods ever offered for sale in this city. Call in and examine his goods and his prices which you will find to be lower than elsewhere.

If you want a good dinner call at the Oak City Hotel. Accommodation as good as any in the city.

Profitable Stock Investments. Before Messrs. Lawrence & Co., the New York bankers, inaugurated the combination system of operating in stocks, it was often very difficult for inexperienced operators, or even old stagers, to deal profitably by their single handed ventures. Now the field is open to every one for successful opera-tions, and capital in any amounts, from $10 to $20,000, can be used with equal proportionate profit. Instead of dis-tracting efforts among many customers, the orders of thousands are concentrated into one vast pool and co-opera-ted for the benefit of all, dividing profits pro rata every month. A prominent citizen of San Francisco made $1,264.83 from an investment of $300 last month. Other customers are doing better still. $25 pays $125 during the month, $200 returns $1,200, or 6 per cent. on the stock, and so on as the market moves. New circular contains "two unerring rules for success," and full instructions for any one to operate profitably. All the advantages of un-limited capital and careful manipulation are secured by the combination method. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Deposits received.
